Selected Strategic Innovative Accomplishments at CalArts:

I have been an innovative member of the CalArts community and have continued to go above and beyond my roles to not only dream about the future of the University, but actually execute steps towards getting there. Below are major contributions I have made in my role in service to the CalArts and our community:

- Redesigned and continually evolved new undergraduate program in Music Technology in collaboration with the Dean of Music and received accreditation from Western Association of Schools and Colleges. This resulted in increasing the program enrollment 5X. We are now currently ranked as one of the top Music Technology programs in the world.
- Founded and established a new MFA Program in Music Technology in collaboration with the Dean of Music and received accreditation from Western Association of Schools and Colleges. This program brought together arts, science and research capabilities for graduate students in this area. This program has been running for the ten years and we have been able to place graduates in companies like Google, Adobe, Disney Imagineering, Meow Wolf, Apple, IBM as well professors at National University of Singapore, Massey University and University of Victoria in Wellington in New Zealand.
- Won a National Science Foundation grant to bring STEM education to CalArts as a whole. This grant provided funding for students and brought new courses to our campus that continue to run today.
- Applied for and won a Google Research Grant for Internet of Things project in collaboration with New York University. This grant was for 59K and went directly to fund CalArts students to work on the project and get published internationally.
- Designed novel classrooms using technology to democratize digital learning in a system called "N2N learning". Brought in a Corporate sponsorship from SONY to donate equipment.
- Created a faculty committee for Creative Technology and for 10 years have lead and managed institute wide initiatives involving academic technology strategic planning and interdisciplinary curricular innovation.
- Founded and established the Digital Arts Minor to bring STEM training to undergraduates around the University. This program and associated courses have benefited 1000's of students across the University over the past 10 years.
- Founded and Created the CalArts Expo, a day that is dedicated to the Creative Excellence of our community that brings together faculty, students and staff in all schools in the institute to showcase work in all of our top venues across the institute. This involves leading a group of volunteer student creative directors in weekly meetings, working with advancement, communications and facilities, coordinating with deans and faculty and fund raising to assure the event happens each year. We have successfully brought industry leaders in Los Angeles to the event and have been able to get students work opportunities when showcasing their work.
- Special projects have been assigned to me directly by the President over the years like working and forging relationships with companies and academic institutions (including Magic Leap, Disney, CalTech, etc.) Last year we participated at the iF so What festival in San Francisco and represented the University in a premiere arts festival. This enabled CalArts to get funding from Porsche.
- Worked with communications department to put together CalArts Corner in the Valencia Town Center (Local Mall) to bridge the relationship with CalArts and our local community

- Worked with Patty Disney Center for Life and Work to bring faculty and staff together for creating the best experiences for students. This has resulted in the CFO and Director of Campus Life and Work to join me in my Creative Entrepreneurship course. The goal is to create a CalArts Startup Incubator.
- Led emergency initiatives during the COVID crisis to train CalArts Faculty to teach remotely as well showcase student work virtually and united as a University.
